BRAVO! VAIL OPENS JUNE 27

Dallas Symphony Orchestra, The Philadelphia Orchestra and the New York Philharmonic headline six-week music festival; Bravo! Vail welcomes acclaimed artists including violinists Midori and Joshua Bell, pianists Hélène Grimaud and Yefim Bronfman, and jazz guitarist John Pizzarelli

Vail, CO – June 3, 2014 – Bravo! Vail opens its 27th season on Friday June 27, 2014 at Vail’s Gerald R. Ford Amphitheater, beginning six weeks of music-making featuring the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, The Philadelphia Orchestra and the New York Philharmonic, in a festival setting that draws more than 60,000 concertgoers each year. Building on the excitement of close to three decades of remarkable concerts, Bravo! Vail once again welcomes a line-up of celebrated soloists to the stage, including violinists Midori, Joshua Bell and James Ehnes, and pianists Hélène Grimaud, Stephen Hough and Yefim Bronfman, as well as jazz guitarist John Pizzarelli. Tickets for all Bravo! Vail concerts are on sale at bravovail.org or by calling the box office at 877.812.5700.

“June means summer, and that means it’s time for Bravo! Vail,” said James W. Palermo, executive director, Bravo! Vail. “We open in less than a month, and have a varied, exciting, and star-studded summer of the best classical, pops and jazz presentations available, anywhere. We are thrilled with Bravo! Vail's continued growth, the unique nature of our summer presence and that the Festival continues to be a driving force for the local and regional economy. Besides creating great art, Bravo! Vail is wonderful for business in the Vail Valley.”

Bravo! Vail, which showcases classical and chamber music’s greatest stars at concert venues throughout Eagle County, Colorado, adds new dimensions to the festival this year, including the newly-announced Bravo! Vail After Dark series. Designed specifically for younger patrons and those interested in engaging with classical music in a more relaxed format, Bravo! Vail After Dark presents popular Bravo! Vail artists in informal locations such as the Vail Ale House (Third Coast Percussion; July 19) and the Crazy Mountain Brewing Company in Edwards (Calder Quartet; July 26).

For the first time in festival history, Bravo! Vail’s Chamber Music Series features members of each of the three visiting orchestras. The Chamber Music Series showcases rare opportunities to experience chamber works in more intimate, smaller venues, such as Vivaldi’s The Four Seasons performed by members of The Philadelphia Orchestra on July 8 at Vail’s Donovan Pavilion.

“Each season of Bravo! Vail feels like a fresh adventure,” said Anne-Marie McDermott, artistic director, Bravo! Vail. “Bravo! Vail brings together gifted artists who share the same passion for music; each musician elevates the other, creating an intensely invigorating atmosphere. The infectious chemistry between the audiences and musicians is matchless and continues to mature each year. This is truly a stunning season.”

Highlights of the 27th season of Bravo! Vail promise to be Beethoven’s Ninth with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra on June 28; a screening of the Disney classic film Fantasia with live orchestra accompaniment by The Philadelphia Orchestra on July 9; and Grammy Award-winning pianist Yefim Bronfman together with the New York Philharmonic on July 19. The New York Philharmonic also returns with a new take on Broadway Night with the Philharmonic on July 24 in a program of music by Frank Loesser, including hits... from Guys and Dolls, How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying, The Most Happy Fella, and Hans Christian Andersen. Among the Broadway stars gracing the stage is Santino Fontana, the voice of the conniving-yet-charming Prince Hans in the Academy Award-winning Disney animated feature, “Frozen.”

Highlights of Bravo! Vail’s 27th Season mentioned above:

If You Go: Jazz Guitar with John Pizzarelli – Opening Night with Dallas Symphony Orchestra
